Scalable Workday testing services for your unique project needs

Alight's testing services provide expert guidance around the Workday testing process through proven and standardized Delivery Assurance approved tools and methodology. Our processes leverage best practices and lessons learned from over 800 Workday deployments and 400+ currently supported Workday customers. Regardless of your unique business needs or where you are in your Workday journey, our testing services and tools increase testing accuracy while saving you resources.

Decrease your testing timeline by 50-70% with testing automation

One of the largest resource drains impacting your organization during a Workday deployment and the subsequent Workday feature releases is testing. Our Workday testing automation technology executes test scripts created by our Workday experts against your implementation or preview tenant exactly as if a user ran through the same set of steps via the Workday user interface.

- Resourcing: Free up resources otherwise dedicated to testing for more strategic tasks
- Consistency: Execute testing consistently every time, leading to fewer errors
- Repeatability: Allows you to perform the entire suite of tests as needed when significant configuration changes are made.
- Documentation: Allows you to perform the entire suite of tests as needed when significant configuration changes are made.

Expert testing knowledge for immediate benefits

Managing your test creation and execution may feel like something your team can manage versus involving a partner. However, as teams become overwhelmed with their daily tasks in addition to their testing responsibilities, these testing scenarios begin to lose their integrity. Partnering with a Workday testing expert lets your team leverage the knowledge and guidance of our Workday experts so that you are quickly finding and resolving any configuration or process issues.
